Canton Broker Quizzed on Body Found In His Car

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Robert K. Domer, Canton businessman who vanished April 1, was in custody today. But police kept silent about his mysterious absence and the charred body found in his car.

Stark County authorities who questioned Domer Sunday after his arrest, said the 43-year-old mortgage investment broker has burns on his hands, face and ankle. FBI agents also joined in the interrogation.

Domer was quizzed for several hours in County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman's office. The prosecutor, however, declined to say what, if anything, was learned about the so far unidentified body found inside Domer's car Tuesday. Putman also declined comment on Domer's disappearance.

The prosecutor said Domer has been secretly indicted on charges of forged cancellation of a mortgage. Putman said Domer was taken to Mercy Hospital after questioning and treated for burns on his hands, face and right ankle.

Deputies said Domer's wife called the sheriff after her husband decided to give himself up. Domer, president of Continental Mortgage Corp., left home April 1. His firm reportedly was in financial difficulties.

22 Clubs Are Represented

400 Attend Ruritan Banquet at Damascus

More than 400 persons, representing 22 Ruritan Clubs from the northern section of the Ohio district, attended the annual spring dinner meeting Saturday night at West Branch High School.

This was the first spring meeting at which all 22 clubs were represented.

Guest speaker was Robert Amick of Lenoir, N. C., past national Ruritan director. He discussed ways in which men improve their lives and their community by participation in Ruritan activities.

The Maple Ridge Ruritan Club was host for the event. Maple Ridge President Willard Aebi gave the welcoming address. George Ellis was chairman of the dinner served by the West Branch Band Mothers Association.

Howard Showalter, district Ruritan secretary, had the roll call, and Phillip Sanderson of Maple Ridge was in charge of the program.

James Daniels, host chaplain, gave the invocation and benediction, and Albert Ellis led the group in the pledge of allegiance and in singing "God Bless America".

The dinner was followed by round and square dancing at the anniversary ball in charge of Michael Sweeley. Music was furnished by the Bob Nezheth orchestra.

National directors present were Floyd Lower of Lisbon, past national Ruritan president, and Richard Speidel of Hanoverton.

In charge of decorations were Gale Myers and Earl Iddings. Mums and red and white carnations were used for centerpieces.

Clash Looms Between Haitians, Dominicans

Castro, Nikita Discuss Boost In Soviet Aid

Russian People Give Cuban Chief Passive Welcome

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Prime Minister Fidel Castro opened talks in the Kremlin today aimed at further cementing relations between their two Communist regimes.

High on the list of topics, observers believed, was stepped up Soviet military and economic aid. They wondered how much higher than the reported million dollars a day now being spent the Soviet Union was willing to go.

There also was speculation that Khrushchev would try to wipe out any bitterness remaining because of his decision to withdraw missiles from Cuba last October without consulting Castro.

Papers Welcome Castro

Moscow newspapers were full of welcomes for Castro.

"Moscow gives hearty welcome to Fidel Castro," said Pravda.

"Moscow embraces Fidel Castro as a brother," was the headline in Izvestia.

The press accounts made up for any lack of warmth in Sunday's greeting.

Khrushchev led 40,000 Russians through a Red Square welcome, but the elaborate show failed to whip up the frenzied enthusiasm westerners had expected.

The bearded Cuban leader proclaimed that, except for the Soviet Union, his revolutionary regime could not exist. He heaped praise on Soviet economic and military aid.

Restraint In Manner

Castro, wearing a fur hat against the chilly winds, was relatively restrained in manner.

Khrushchev opened the proceedings from the reviewing stand atop Lenin's tomb and set the tone.

He donned steel-rimmed spectacles and slowly and dryly read a welcoming speech which—more time—said the Soviet Union was lined up shoulder-to-shoulder with Cuba against the United States.

Castro, who towered over his host, read a Spanish translation while Khrushchev spoke.

The crowds, conveyed to the square in army trucks, applauded mostly on signal from Khrushchev.

Khrushchev claimed that Soviet support for Cuba during last autumn's crisis had avoided a clash with the United States that could have touched off World War III.

Saying that the Soviet Union would stick by Cuba, he added, "it is not Cuba that threatens the United States, but the United States that wishes to take away the freedom of the Cuban people won for themselves."

Castro did not refer to the Soviet missile withdrawal and brushed over the crisis with the brief statement that "the imperialists would not have stopped short of an open invasion of our country if it were not for the Soviet Union."

Khrushchev was out at blustery Vnukova Airport when Castro arrived by plane from the arctic port of Murmansk where he spent Sunday morning inspecting the northern sea fleet.

Castro and Khrushchev, who last met at the U.N. General Assembly in New York in October 1960, embraced but did not kiss as they greeted one another.

Thieves Get $4 at Service Station

LISBON — Approximately $4 in money was taken Saturday night from Conn's Sunoco Service Station, according to village police.

The intruders removed a window pane from the south side door of the building, and reached in and opened the door to the grease pit.

Several rolls of pennies in the open cash register were not taken. Glenn Conn, owner, notified the police early Sunday morning.

6 Persons Hurt In Other Mishaps

2 Alliance Boys Killed When Hit by Car; Driver Not Held

Two Alliance boys were killed and six area persons were injured in weekend traffic mishaps.

Killed Saturday night while walking on S. Mahoning Ave. Ext. just south of Alliance were Michael K. Hineman, 10, son of Mrs. Virginia Hineman, and Lloyd C. Carpenter, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Carpenter.

State highway patrolmen at Lisbon said the boys were struck by a car driven by Richard Kahler, 18, of Alliance. The youths were walking home with their brothers, Jeffrey Hineman, 13, and James Carpenter, 13, after playing in a field. Patrolmen said the four were walking abreast "on the road and with traffic".

Leap Clear Of Car

The two older boys leaped clear of the Kahler car in time to avoid being struck. Kahler, who said he did not see the children in time to miss them, was not held.

The boys were dead on arrival at Alliance City Hospital. Stark

County coroner G. S. Shaheen ruled the deaths traffic fatalities.

Sunday at 6:30 a.m. two Salem area girls were hurt in a Stark County traffic accident. Treated at Alliance City Hospital and released were Evelyn Shoaff, 14, of RD 5, contusions of the forehead, and Myra Tyson, 19, also of RD 5, contusions of the left leg and elbow.

Lost Control Of Car

The Stark County sheriff's department reported Miss Tyson was traveling west and turning north on Route 153 in Washington Twp. when she lost control of her car and went off the road. Miss Shoaff was her passenger. Miss Tyson was cited for failure to have an operator's license.

In a one-car mishap Saturday four Damascus and Beloit area youths were injured and taken to Salem Central Clinic Hospital for treatment.

Injured were Ted Cobbs, 16, of Damascus, lacerations of upper lip; Marion Kelley, 16, of RD 2, Beloit, contusions of the head; Nora Marshall, 15, of Damascus, contusions of lower lip; and Lynn Winn, 16, of Damascus, lacerations of the lower lip and possible fractured rib.

Auto Strikes Pole

The Canfield post of the State Highway Patrol said the four young people were traveling on Courtney Rd., about three miles east of the Stark-Mahoning County line, in Smith Township. Their car, driven by young Cobbs, went off the right side of the road and hit a pole Saturday at 10 p.m.

Cobbs, cited for unsafe operation, will appear in Mahoning County Juvenile Court.

A car driven by a Canfield youth and another auto from Youngstown were involved in a mishap that injured a Youngstown man Saturday at 2:10 a.m. on Route 7 in Boardman.

The Canfield patrol said Donald Wallace, 18, of Canfield was stopped.

Duvalier Told To Take Troops From Embassy

Relations Between Caribbean Nations Severed by Haiti

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—An armed clash between the two neighbors of the Caribbean island of Hispaniola threatened today. The Dominican Republic accused Haiti of invading its embassy, and Haiti broke diplomatic relations between the two countries.

President Juan Bosch gave Haitian President Francois Duvalier 24 hours to withdraw troops surrounding the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince. The Embassy is sheltering 22 foes of Duvalier.

"Unless the outrages against the Dominican Republic in Haiti end within 24 hours, we will put an end to them by all means within our power," Bosch said.

Troops Leaves Cancelled

The Dominican armed forces secretary, Maj. Gen. Victor Elvis Vinas Roman, announced all troop leaves had been canceled. But he said there was no military movement toward the Haitian border.

The Organization of American States ordered a five-nation fact-finding team to fly to both countries to investigate the crisis next door to Cuba. The OAS appealed to both governments to keep the peace.

The dispute with the Dominicans flared as a result of Duvalier's attempt to crush rising opposition to his regime.

Tension began mounting a week ago when leaflets warned Duvalier that an attempt would be made to overthrow him May 15—the end of his first term as president.

Suspicious that opposition to him centered in the regular army, Duvalier last week fired 64 officers, the bulk of the army's leadership. The dictator has built up a personal militia and presidential guard that outnumber the army and are better armed.

Fired on Children

On Friday, occupants of a speeding car opened fire on Duvalier's two children, Jan Claude, 12, and Simone, 14, as they were being driven home from school. Three of the children's guards were slain but the children were not hurt.

The attack triggered weekend violence in which 15 persons were

Rockefeller Mum On Reported Plans To Wed Socialite

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller smiled and declined comment today on a published report that he will marry recently divorced Margaretta Fittler Murphy May 18 or 19.

A copyright story in today's New York Mirror quoted an unidentified friend of the Rockefeller family as saying:

"The date will be Saturday, May 18, or Sunday, May 19. The ceremony will be performed at a Protestant Episcopal church—but not the one where Rockefeller usually worships; the interdenominational Riverside church on Riverside Drive.

Rockefeller, a potential 1964 GOP presidential candidate, met reporters at Westchester County Airport as he left for Cincinnati for a Republican dinner tonight.

Asked how he felt about the speculation and interest in his possible marriage, he said: "It's a free country. You have to expect that if you're in public office."

In answer to a question on what he plans to do during a three-week gap in his schedule next month, he said: "Don't you ever take a vacation?" He said he has no specific plans for the three weeks.

The Mirror said Mrs. Murphy

Bombings Mar Elections

Italians Vote In Record Numbers

ROME (AP)—A record voter turnout was indicated today as Italy wound up nationwide elections to pick a new Parliament and pass judgment on government cooperation with the left.

Voters who didn't cast ballots on the first day of polling Sunday had a final seven hours today.

In 14 hours of polling Sunday 80 per cent of the 34 million eligible voters went to the polls. This compared with 77 per cent for the first day of balloting in 1958, when the election ended with a record turnout of 93.8 per cent.

Six persons were injured in a series of pre-dawn bombings Sunday in Milan's central railway station. Police blamed agitators for greater local autonomy in the Alto Adige (South Tyrol), north Italian area that once belonged to Austria.

The voter turnout reflected the intense interest in the future of Christian Democratic Premier Amintore Fanfani's policy of co-operating with Pietro Nenni's Socialist party that formerly was allied with the Communists.

Both the Communists and parties of the right denounced Fanfani's center-left alliance. But the Roman Catholic Church approved and called on Catholics to back the Catholic party.

The voters were choosing 630 deputies and 315 senators for the Italian republic's fourth Parliament. There were more than 7,000 candidates. In the outgoing chamber the Christian Democrats were the biggest party by far with 273 seats although they were 43 seats short of a majority. The Socialists did not join the coalition government, but Socialist support in Parliament gave Fanfani a voting majority.

At stake in the four-day election which ended Sunday night was the right to represent 8,200 over-the-road truckers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland, members of four Teamsters locals.

A jubilant Hoffa, in Philadelphia for much of the past 15 weeks directing his campaign, received the news of his victory by thrusting two fingers downward.

"The Voice down," he said. "Down the Voice."

"The figures are tremendous," he continued. "It proves once again that the truckers will not be fooled by Meany or any tricks of the Voice."

AFL-CIO regional representative William Kirchner, present as an adviser to the Voice, commented, "When the president (of the Teamsters) takes 15 weeks to squeeze out a 2-1 victory in the heart of his union, he's in trouble. These fellows (the Voice) struck the first real blow to clean up the union."

Voice Chairman Charles Meyer expressed shock at the outcome of the election.

Kirchner said that Hoffa had made "the greatest array of promises ever seen in a campaign."

"If Mr. Hoffa makes good on

Scolding Won't Stop Nail-Biting

Some children, when they are tense or worried, have to bite something. If in school they may chew on a pencil, but if nothing else is handy they will bite their nails — the only part they can readily bite without causing pain. It is a common habit and one that is usually, but not always, outgrown.

It does not help to scold or punish the child. He is apt to be unaware that he is biting his nails, and will start again automatically when his tension returns, when he is watching an exciting television episode, or when he is worried about something.

SCOLDING and nagging are bound to fail, as they do nothing to relieve the cause. This can best be done by bolstering the child's self-confidence through praise for accomplishment, and by not pushing him beyond his capacity.

It sometimes helps in the case of a girl who bites her nails to appeal to her pride in neat-looking nails and, as she grows older, if she still bites her nails, to get her a manicure set complete with nail polish.

The thing to remember is that the nail biting is not important in itself. As an indication of an overwrought state of mind it should be taken as a warning that your child is not as well adjusted as he or she should be.

Q-I am concerned about my 3-month-old son's birthmarks — two bright red rough spots on the right side of his flank. One is flat, the other is raised. They are growing slightly. Our doctor says surgery may be necessary later, but he is hoping they will go away. What do you advise? Do they ever become cancerous?

A-Birthmarks are of three kinds. Port wine stains are flat, strawberry marks are slightly raised, and hemangiomas are deeper and consist of a mass of distended veins. Since none of these has any relation to cancer and since, in the case of your son, they are located where they will be covered for the most part, no treatment should be required.

If, as your son grows older, you treat him at all times as though he were perfectly normal, he will suffer little or no emotional upset when others stare at him or remark about these birthmarks on a bathing beach.

Treatment for the three types is different. Irradiation with Grenz rays or tattooing are sometimes used for the port wine stains; freezing with carbon dioxide snow for the strawberry marks; X-ray, surgical removal or injection as with varicose veins for the hemangiomas.

I would advise postponing any treatment until your son is old enough to decide for himself whether he wants these spots treated.

Business Support For Tax Cut

Support by business for the Kennedy administration's proposed tax-cutting should surprise no one.

It was forthcoming from the moment President Kennedy proposed a $13 billion tax reduction last January.

It had been forthcoming before that. Every businessman in the country could see the advantage of a tax reduction to spur private enterprise.

Business organizations had been asking the federal government for years to reform the federal tax structure, with a view to freeing more money for business expansion.

It was a point of agreement in the business community that federal taxes had become a burden. The last straws that Congress had been heaping on the taxpaying camel were breaking the patient beast's back.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S proposal to cut taxes, on the theory of spurring the economy and thereby recovering in due time the short-term loss of revenue, made sense to business.

This is the way businessmen cope with a sluggish rate of activity. They get their hands on additional capital to accelerate their growth rate. President Kennedy was proposing, in effect, to make $13 billion in new capital available.

So much for the business viewpoint. It would have been strange indeed for business to have had any other viewpoint. Business always welcomes a chance to cut overhead and expand operations.

It was not the business community that raised objections on the grounds of inconsistency. It was not businessmen as such who viewed with alarm the idea of going deeper into federal debt to give enterprise a shot in the arm. Businessmen are accustomed to borrowing money.

THE OBJECTIONS were raised by people who questioned whether the federal government could restrain its rate of spending while cutting revenue.

They questioned its good faith. They were alarmed by what seemed to them to be an imprudent policy prompted by political expediency.

They still are. Their misgivings are not calmed by the ability of the Kennedy administration to round up business support. It always has had a strong case with the business community. The appeal of reduced taxes and a livelier turnover is powerful.

Elsewhere, its case is still weak.

It is asking Congress to cut taxes on the promise that spending will be held in check. Yet, the Kennedy administration is fighting conservatives trying to hold spending in check.

Its good faith remains to be proved. In fact, even the business group supporting the tax cut makes this point—that spending restraint must go with a tax cut.

Government Career Men Support Nationalization

By RAYMOND MOLEY

A new sea of devils—said to be responsible for the growing power of the federal government regardless of whether Democrats or Republicans run the White House and Congress—has just been identified by the president-elect of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

He is Edwin P. Neilan of Wilmington, Del., chairman and president of the Bank of Delaware, who will be installed May 1, for a one-year term as head of the nation's largest business organization.

Speaking just after announcement of his election by the chamber's board of directors, Neilan declared that the impetus for "nationalization" in the United States remains the same regardless of which political party is in power.

"It comes," he asserted, from a relatively small group of entrenched civil servants who use both parties to extend their power and social philosophy.

"They appear to be beyond any adequate control by the thin layer of political appointees at the top."

NEILAN NAMES NO NAMES, gives no specific examples, does not identify in what government agencies "the entrenched" are to be bound.

But this is something brand new in the way of a charge from the business community as to who is responsible for all the big government programs businessmen object to.

Neilan's target isn't the Americans for Democratic Action, the favorite group to blame for what's wrong with the country. Neither does he make the Communists his whipping boy. Nor does he hold that new Washington policies are dictated by the labor bosses — though he does have some definite views on treating the monopoly power of labor unions the same as business monopolies.

Democratic new frontiersmen aren't blamed any more than the Republicans by Neilan. No, it's this unspecified little group of top grade civil servants—government career men barred from political activity by the Hatch act, bureaucrats if you will—who are now held up by him for indictment on charges of running the Establishment.

IN THIS CONNECTION, it is recalled that when the Eisenhower administration came to town 10 years ago there was a definite effort to get government career men out of all policy-making in their places.

The effort wasn't completely successful. But when the Kennedy administration took over it very definitely removed all Republican policymakers and replaced them with Democrats.

Most career civil servants, considered experts in their respective fields, stayed on in their nonpolicy-making jobs. The best of these people are usually singled out to get annual meritorious service awards for carrying out plans approved by the policy makers as authorized by acts of Congress.

But, says Neilan, "these federal officials are on the road selling their subsidy programs as painless panaceas for almost every type of community problem."

"They endeavor to convince business, civic and political leaders that shopping for money in Washington is like visiting the bargain basement. The next step will be to create a cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs and turn our cities into federal dependencies."

THIS LAST POINT is what Neilan hopes to oppose most vigorously in his year as U.S. Chamber president. He is on sound ground here, although he probably is fighting a hopeless battle.

He admits it is easier for mayors to come to Washington for $100,000 grants or loans than to try to raise money at home.

Neilan, identifies himself politically as a great ticket splitter. Born in Michigan, reared in the Midwest and Texas, he voted for Al Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt—the first two times. Then he became a registered Republican.

"I'm not sure I can qualify as a conservative," he says. "Some of my banking competitors say I'm not."

"—Your Return Trip Can Be a Leisurely One On a Soviet Troop Transport"

Is Moon Race Worth It?

The astronomic cost of the race to the moon (estimated at $30 billion) and the possible sacrifice of human life that first attempts will entail has produced doubts in the United States that it is essential for the United States to beat the Russians in the contest.

The following article by noted historian Arnold Toynbee, written last September is even more topical now.

By ARNOLD TOYNEBEE

LONDON
In his presidential address to the British Association last year, Sir John Cookcroft pointed out that the sum then being spent annually by the United States government alone for eventually hoisting a man to the moon would raise the indigents' share of mankind's income per head by 25 per cent if it were directed to this use over a period of 10 years.

Presumably the Soviet government is spending about the same amount as the United States government in competing with it in this frivolous moonrace. Yet what use of the gifts of science could be more perverse? The arren moon can wait, but starving mouths cannot.

COMMUNICATIONS are of crucial importance in an age of atomic weapons. In this age the human race has the choice between growing together into a single family and committing mass-suicide. The marvelous new means of communication by satellites like Telstar, with which science has endowed us in the nick of time, are the very thing needed for enabling all our various tribes to get to know each other; and better acquaintance is the necessary first steps toward making friends.

Today, mankind's destiny hangs on the outcome of this race between fraternization and annihilation. This is literally a matter of life and death. And our new scientific means of communication might perhaps just avail to tip the balance in favor of survival.

But are we going to use our new scientific means of communication for the purpose that is obviously the first priority on any rational reckoning?

Our present use of television and broadcasting is not encouraging—at least in so far as we are handing them over for commercial exploitation. To judge by our record up to date, we seem likely to drift into the jaws of death with our eyes glued to comic strips.

UNFORTUNATELY for our prospects, this perversion is not something new in human history. Mankind has been misusing its surplusage ever since it first had surpluses to dispose of; and it is a sad sight to see the two greatest powers in the present-day world running in the same old ruts, with the small fry tagging along behind them.

The most important ingredients of a successful speech are plenty of spice and a lot of shortening.

Both the Russians and the United States ought to know better if there is any substance in make for their own way of life.

Communist Russia and pioneer America each claim to have taken a new departure in human history. They claim to have jumped clear of mankind's traditional crimes and follies, and to have dedicated themselves to the creation of an earthly paradise.

Unhappily, these proud claims are being given the lie by positive acts. Both powers—and the rest of us too, in so far as we have resources for imitating them—are using the surpluses in the two traditional ways.

In the past, the world's rulers, with their subject's acquiescence, have spent most of the surplus at their command on armaments, and the rest of it on frivolities.

The oldest and biggest of these frivolities are the Pyramids.

There is a story that, when Bernard Shaw set eyes on them, he remarked that he would like to pull them down and break up the stones for building decent houses for the Egyptian peasantry who have been housed in mud-brick hovels from the Pyramid-builders' day to our own.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Ten years ago when my husband moved his offices into a new building he asked me to do the decorating. I worked awfully hard but the results were worth it.

I used walnut paneling, beiges, browns and burnt orange for contrast. Everyone remarked on the quiet elegance and the atmosphere of dignity and restfulness.

Friends suggested I go in for decorating as a career. Several weeks ago my husband mentioned redoing his offices. His secretary is putting to work some of her ideas, he said.

Yesterday when I saw the finished offices I almost fainted. It looks like a Miami night club. I said nothing but I'm sure he sensed my disappointment. Should I come right out and tell him his offices are a monstrosity and that I'd be happy to redo them for him?

He seems to think his secretary did a "sensational" job. Please advise. — OUTRAGED.

Dear Outraged: Say nothing. Any comment from you would sound like sour grapes.

Get busy on a decorating project at home. It will help to keep your mind off the office. And stay away from there. If you don't see it, it won't bother you so much.

Dual Management

Dear Ann: Mother always has run my life. I thought when I married she'd stop, but no such luck. Mother is a bright woman and I'm certain much of her advice is sound. I resist it, however, just because it comes from her. Now we are having a violent disagreement and I'd like your views.

Our 3½-year-old son has been walking and talking since he was 11 months old. He's unusually active and I'm exhausted trying to keep him from destroying the house.

I've lost 20 pounds since this child was born. My doctor suggested nursery school, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., not only to give me relief but to keep the boy busy.

My mother says young women today are running away from their children and dodging their responsibilities by sticking their pre-school children in day nurseries. She says this produces insecure, rejected children. Is mother right or wrong? — NO MATCH FOR MOM.

Dear No Match: For every parent who is running an adult's life there must be an adult who is permitting it. Domination is a two-way proposition.

Day nurseries are excellent for some children and not good for others. Since your doctor recommended it for your child, take his advice. Precocious and active youngsters are better off in a nursery school than at home with a nervous, hair-pulling mother.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I have no intention of being tricked into a discussion of whether we would be better off if we got rid of all the rules we keep on breaking.

I have given extended thought to the Las Vegas precedent. Or you could call it the New Orleans precedent, I suppose—except New Orleans is a special situation.

There is only one thing that can be done wrong in Las Vegas, as far as gambling is concerned. That is to forget to pay the government what it is entitled to collect. Gambling is not illegal, only cheating the government.

Some of the same gambling operators who were as illegal as $7 bills elsewhere now are respected city fathers in Las Vegas. They have undergone the same transformation that changed lawless bootleggers into law-abiding purveyors of "beverages" when we repealed prohibition.

That was the all-time example of what can be done with a change of rules. I am given to understand by friends of mine in a position to know that bootlegging still goes on. But all it amounts to now is failure to pay what is owing to Caesar, not the manufacture of the booze itself. That is not a crime. A change in the rules made it a legitimate pursuit of profit.

A MINOR situation of the same kind has fascinated me lately—the difference between a Stop sign and a Yield sign in traffic control. When your aunt and I went traveling by car in the United Kingdom we were pleasantly surprised by the Yield signs. They have lots of them in this country, too.

They permit a driver to do what he is going to do anyway—enter a main thoroughfare with caution, unless he is a fool—and in that case a Stop sign won't cure him.

The Yield sign removes illegality from failure to come to a full stop at a Stop sign. It can be that simple. Take down the Keep Off the Grass sign and it ceases to be a misdemeanor to walk on grass, something that people have done since time immemorial.

But don't get me into an argument about it, because the proposition is loaded. There always will be people who will tell you with a straight face what is absolutely wrong. Their minds can't be changed. I once knew a local yokel who said it was absolutely wrong to drive an auto more than 45 miles an hour. I never convinced him that driving a car 65 miles an hour made sense on a modern highway.

THERE IS NO end to things proscribed and proscribed in this world. Some people tell us what we must and must not do on Sunday, some on Saturday and on all other days of the week in other parts of the world.

I don't assume the right to tell anybody what to do, short of not invading my life and happiness. But again I warn you, I am not going to be tricked into a discussion of what would happen if we got rid of rules we keep on breaking.

Your aunt has been telling me what was good for me and bad for me as long as I can remember, and I love her for it. Shows she has my welfare at heart. But I let it go in one ear and gone tomorrow. It gathers no moss. Regards to all.

There has been considerable conjecture about the possible marriage plans of the 54-year-old governor and the 36-year-old socialite. The governor has refused to comment on Mrs. Murphy's divorce four weeks ago—just as he has refused to discuss his own divorce 13 months ago after 31 years of marriage.

The Rockefeller and Murphy families move in the same social circles and have homes near each other.

10 Injured As Jews Battle Nazis In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ten persons were injured in a free-swinging battle between Jews and Nazis outside an observance of Israel's 15th anniversary of independence.

The combatants used fists and clubs during the 10-minute struggle Sunday night in front of the Shrine Auditorium, police said.

Four swastika-wearing members of the American Nazi party and 4 policemen were injured and sent to hospitals. Two Jews were at the scene.

Guests inside the huge auditorium, including such entertainers as Jack Benny, Ziva Rodann, Kathryn Grayson, Raymond Massey, Bill (Joe) Jimenez Dana, Marty Ingels, Jackie Mason, Calvin Jackson, Gene Barry, Ed Begley and Vivienne Della Chiesa were unaware of the fight outside.

Officer George Rains said the Nazis carried anti-Jewish signs and the disturbance started when a Jewish man was hit over the head by one of the picketing Nazis.

Firemen Kept Busy During the Weekend

Salem city firemen answered three calls Sunday and one this morning.

At 1:11 p.m. Sunday, members of the fire department went to the corner of Penn Ave. and State St. to flush gasoline from the street. The fuel had leaked from an unidentified car.

Two grass fires, with no damage reported at either, also occupied the attention of the city fire fighters Sunday: at 2:43 p.m. in a vacant field at 1128 Fairview Ave.; and at 3:35 p.m. on Lisbon Road, just south of the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks at the site of the expected Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. food packing plant. On the latter call, the firemen remained more than two hours fighting the fire which threatened to spread to Depot and Pidgeon Roads.

This morning at 8:53 an oil furnace began smoking at the Atty. Al Fitch residence, 999 Jennings Ave., causing the fire department to go to the scene. No damage was reported.

FORFEITS IN LISBON

LISBON — Robert Earl Shaw, 40, East Palestine RD 1, forfeited a $25 bond Sunday in Mayor Dean Stockman's court when he failed to appear for a hearing on intoxication and disturbing the peace Saturday at 11:05 p.m. Police found him asleep in a parked car with the motor running.

Charles Burnett of Youngstown, a passenger in Carroll's auto, was taken to South Side Hospital in Youngstown with severe lacerations of the forehead and a possible fractured spine.

Carroll was cited for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

At the dangerous Route 62 and 165 intersection Sunday at 11 a.m., a Salem area motorist and one from Pennsylvania collided, but no one was injured. Patrolmen said Charles Sheen, 73, of RD 5, Salem, pulled into the path of a car operated by Robert Ferrell, 24, of Newcastle. Sheen was cited for failing to yield the right of way.

Car Hits Guard Rail

The Lisbon patrol post reported Paul R. Swindell, 28, of Nashville, Tenn., was hurt Saturday at 7:45 p.m. on Route 172, one mile east of Route 9, when his car struck a guard rail. He was treated for multiple lacerations of the body and head at Salem Central Clinic and released. The patrol arrested him for unsafe operation.

No one was hurt or cited in three other weekend traffic mishaps investigated by the Lisbon patrol barracks.

Cars driven by Warren L. Rhodes, 44, of RD 3, Salem, and Donald G. Weaver, 29, of Winona avoided a collision Sunday at 10 a.m. on County Road 411, about three miles west of Route 45, but Weaver plowed into an embankment as a result of the near-miss.

The patrol said Rhodes was making a left turn at the time Weaver was trying to pass. Weaver lost control and struck the embankment.

Two Cars Sideswipe

Sunday at 7:45 p.m. on Township Rd. 707, about one mile south of Route 30, cars driven by Clifford G. Furbee, 44, of Minerva, and Carl F. Lockard Jr., 20, of RD 1, East Rochester, were opposite bound when they sideswiped.

Three cars figured in a mishap Sunday at 7:40 p.m. on Route 30, about two miles north of East Liverpool, but only minor auto damage resulted.

Russell E. Dudley, 27, of Canton and Joseph E. Venick, 19, of Clarksville, Pa., were traveling north when Dudley tried to pass Venick's and an unknown car. In passing, Dudley's auto sideswiped one driven in the opposite direction by Lee A. Jones, 58, of Washington, Pa.

Haiti

reported killed and at last 68 Haitians, including former army officers and their families, took haven in Latin-American embassies.

Informed sources said Haitian soldiers broke into the Dominican Embassy Friday and started a search for refugees but were ordered out by the charge d'affaires.

Telephone Lines Cut
Armed guards and roadblocks blocked approaches to the Dominican ambassador's residence Sunday. Telephone lines were cut off, and taxi drivers refused to take passengers to the vicinity.

It was not clear how the Dominican Republic could press its demands now that Haiti has severed relations and may not consider itself bound by diplomatic protocol. The right of political asylum generally is considered inviolate in Latin America, and Haiti normally would be expected to provide the refugees in the Dominican Embassy safe conduct out of the country eventually.

No specific argument date with in that period was fixed for hearing this particular case.

The contempt proceeding was begun by the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans, La., as a result of the governor's efforts to block enrollment of James H. Meredith, a Negro, at the University of Mississippi.

Also charged with contempt is Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson Jr.

After bringing the contempt charges, the Circuit Court on April 9, 1963 deadlocked 4-4 on the issue of whether Barnett and Johnson could be tried by a jury as they had requested. Four judges voted for a jury trial and four voted to try the case themselves without a jury.

The Circuit Court then asked the Supreme Court to make the decision on the jury trial question.

Barnett and Johnson first were cited for civil contempt. The Circuit Court found them guilty, but before enforcing penalties it ordered the criminal contempt proceedings against the officials and left hanging the civil contempt case.

The Circuit Court had charged Barnett, 64, with contempt after he disobeyed its order not to interfere with Meredith's admission to the university. Johnson was made a party to the proceeding on the ground he had stopped Meredith on one occasion.

Meredith was admitted to the university last fall after rioting in the area.

EASY TO KEEP CLEAN — This moderate-size ranch home uses the laundry and mud room as a buffer from the kitchen to out-of-doors, making it an easy house to keep clean. The center hall separates living and bedroom areas. The dining room is at the rear, with sliding glass doors leading out to a private patio. Homes for Americans Plan HA288C has 1,184 square feet and the architect is Lester Cohen, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York 36, N.Y.

Improving Soil Gives Added Strength, Health to Plants

Wherever you live, the soil you have on hand is a good beginning for growing plants. Improving soil for an entire lawn requires a fair amount of work all at once. But for flowers or it is easy by comparison to improve soil to make plants grow gardens, shrubs or small trees, well.

Remember that plants build up largely from the energy of sunlight, plus water and air. A much smaller part of the weight of all plant growth comes from soil minerals and nitrogen. These can be provided with fertilizer. Organic matter, the partially decayed remains of other plants, provides many "trace minerals" which plants use in tiny amounts.

Exterior Color Often Secret of Attractive Home

When one house looks better than its neighbors, but you can't quite figure out why, check its color scheme.

Exterior color is often the secret of a more attractive, better-proportioned appearance. With a wide palette of colors available today in both exterior paints and roofing materials, the appearance of any home can be improved and given individuality without making architectural changes.

Since the roof normally is the largest visible exterior area for a house, its color is the most important. It should harmonize with both the landscape and other exterior colors.

The many shades of asphalt shingles, from white to black, and including many pastels, blended colors and deep tones, make it possible to choose exactly the right roof color. Many of them harmonize with a variety of colors, so that the home owner can change their exterior colors completely when the house is repainted without causing a jarring note.

Since white and pastel asphalt shingles help keep a house cool by bounding the sun off without causing glare, they are a good choice for sunny locations. They also help make a low house look higher and add a light modern look. Darker colors are used with Colonial or traditional architecture. Another choice is a blend of different tones of one color or a combination of several.

To avoid a cluttered look, color consultants advise home owners to use no more than four exterior colors in roof, siding, trim and accent points such as entrance door and shutters. Each color should be a different value — lighter or darker than the others.

Scarcity of Land for Homes Exists In Much of Nation

If you've ever taken an automobile trip around any considerable part of this great country of ours, you no doubt have been struck by the huge areas of uninhabited land. Yet, in most sections of the country, there is a scarcity of land for residential housing.

This scarcity exists because, as a general rule, houses must be built where employment is available. One exception is in the case of retirement housing — and even then, older citizens want to be located near modern conveniences.

THE SHORTAGE OF PRIME land for homes has resulted in (1) increasing prices for such land and (2) a growing controversy over zoning restrictions. When land costs more, the houses built on it cost more. The controversy is caused by the fact that one school of thought is insistent on preventing new houses from being built on plots too close together. The opposite view is that, by insisting that an individual home be built on a very large plot we are encouraging an appalling waste of land.

THOSE WHO WANT homes built only on plots of a quarter-acre up to two or three acres assert that this is the only way to prevent overcrowding and eventual slums. Many communities, still in the developing stage, have up-zoned their remaining vacant land so that new homes can be built only on, let's say, half-acre or more compared with a previously permitted 60 by 100. Some town and county officials frankly admit that one of their reasons is to restrict the number of houses and thus hold down school population and school taxes.

OPPONENTS OF THIS idea, numbering among them home builders, say that up-zoning is unrealistic and is pricing moderate-income families out of the market. They point to many successful developments throughout the country which were completed 15 and 20 years ago and have not turned into slum areas even though the houses have been constructed on comparatively small plots. Getting much attention in the last couple of years is what is called cluster housing. Under this plan, a large area of ground is purchased by a builder. He then sets aside certain parts of the land for recreation facilities, parks and other open-space uses for the benefit of the community as a whole.

THE REST OF THE land is used for the houses themselves. In this way, the homes are closer together than they normally would be, yet there is a large amount of open area which the builder turns over to the new village, with a legal agreement it cannot be used for additional houses.

Not until builders, lending institutions and municipal authorities get together on a definite plan can the question be settled.

Enlist Friends To Beautify Neighborhood

Look at your neighborhood with the same critical eye you use in your kitchen.

That's the advice from a successful realtor, Mrs. Virginia Dvorak of Glen Ellyn, Ill., for women who would like to maintain the value of their homes.

"When a neighborhood starts to get seedy, it deteriorates in a hurry," she claims.

She offers these suggestions to the housewife who would extend the beauty of her home to the area around it:

Be conscious of your neighborhood and pay particular attention to streets, sidewalks, playgrounds and traffic signs. When they are allowed to run down, the whole area becomes drab.

Don't be bashful about reporting damaged, vandalized or run-down properties when you spot them. Not only will you improve the appearance of your community but you will also correct potentially dangerous conditions.

For example, public officials like to be informed if traffic or street signs are bent, misplaced or illegible, or need replacement by reflective signs that shine at night.

Enlist the aid of friends in beautifying your neighborhood. In many communities volunteer groups have converted weed-filled, vacant lots into small, handsome parks, planted flowers in otherwise ugly, stark areas and painted nearby public buildings for which there were no public improvement funds.

Be proud of your neighborhood. It is an extension of your home.

Skip a Step

If you plan to varnish a staircase, leave every other step free of varnish until the alternate ones are dry. Then you can use the stairs without interruption.

Paint Copper Screens
Even though copper and bronze screens won't rust, they should be painted. Paint will prevent them from corroding and discoloring.

Salem Athletes Honored At Boosters Cage Banquet

Beery Gets 4 Of 12 Awards

Coach John Cabas Is Given Trophy

By MARK W. MILLER
Bill Beery, Salem's star athlete, was given four of the outstanding awards to add to his trophy collection at the annual Salem Boosters Club recognition basketball banquet at Senior High School cafeteria Saturday night.

Charles G. Driesell, head basketball coach of Davidson College, N. C., was guest speaker at the dinner attended by 250 persons.

Ray Lowry, master of ceremonies, introduced Salem school officials, board members, assistant football mentors, Mrs. Bertha Heddeleston, visiting area cage mentors, and Ohio Big 8 Basketball League Commissioner Sim Erich.

JOHN CABAS, the 13-year veteran coach of the Quakers, presented Beery with trophies for being the team's high scorer and the "best offensive efficiency player" for the Red and Black during the 1962-63 campaign.

Beery was also given the Jaycees most valuable player award for the second straight year. Bob Lucas, representing the JC's, presented him with the award.

Booster Club President Calvin Filler gave Beery a trophy for the three records he set during the past season. The Quaker star rewrote the all-time marks for a career with 1,154 points for three seasons and 486 for a single campaign, which included tournament competition, and 401 points for 18 regularly scheduled contests.

He broke previous records held by Jack Alexander, 1,050 for four seasons; Richard Hunter, 396 for 18 games; and 461 by Woody Deitch for 27 games.

OTHER AWARDS given by Cabas were to Dave Capel, best foul shooter; Robert King, most improved player and best rebounder; Marlin Waller, best defensive efficiency player; Larry Deitch, best sportsman; and Richard Sweitzer, Robert Heddeleston Memorial trophy.

Filler gave each senior on the Quakers' varsity squad gold miniature basketballs, and he presented Coach Cabas a special trophy for his 200th victory since coming to Salem. For his overall 13-year coach mark, the Red and Black's mentor is 203-67.

A special trophy was presented to Tom Nedelka as the "person who contributed most to Salem athletics during the past year," and a similar award to Tim Hoppes, "the person who has promoted football and basketball in the city the most during the past several years."

Reserve Coach Karl Zellers gave Cabas a new pair of "red socks," and Beery presented the varsity pilot a gift on behalf of the squad.

JUNIOR VARSITY letters were issued by Zellers to Dick Barrett, George Begalla, Chuck Cushman, Dick Everhart, Dennis Everhart, Frank Fitch, Jim Garrett, Cody Goard, Rick Gregg, Chuck Joseph, Frank Kautzman, Kautzman, Dean Keller, Doug Killman, Wayne "Binks" Washington and Mike Swetwey.

Athletic Director Fred Cope paid tribute to Cabas and Zellers for their outstanding accomplishments.

He also lauded Blaine Morton, former football coach, for his help in scheduling the 1963 contests, and for his aid in equipment problems.

Don Clarico, new head football coach, had other commitments and did not attend.

Senior student Cheryl Walter introduced the football queen and her court, and the cheerleaders.

NINE OF THE members on the varsity cage squad will graduate in June. They include Beery, Rick Platt, John Zilske, George Buckshaw, King, Waller, Sweitzer, Capel, and Deitch.

The 1962-63 unit set the all-time school scoring record when it blasted Youngstown South 107 - 71 and finished the campaign with a 15-7 mark.

Coach Driesell used a blackboard to illustrate his topic, "What Makes Athletics Successful?"

He said "A is for ambition, something you must have if you expect to be successful in athletics or anything that you do; T is for training, H for health, L for loyalty, E for education, T for trying, I for improvement, C for co-operation and S for sacrifice."

THE SPEAKER DECLARED, "Being physically fit is a way of life; keeping a good body and mind go hand in hand."

Driesell ended his talk saying,

OUTSTANDING AWARD WINNERS — Five seniors on Salem's basketball team walked off with outstanding awards during the Boosters Club annual dinner at Senior High Saturday night. From (l. to r.) Dave Capel was presented the best foul shooter trophy, Marlin Waller, best defensive efficiency player trophy; Rich Sweitzer, Robert Heddeleston Memorial Award; Robert King, most improved and best rebounder; and Larry Deitch, best sportsman.

BEERY, CABAS GIVEN TROPHIES — Bill Beery (left) was presented with the high point, "best offensive efficiency player," Jaycees most valuable and special Boosters Club trophies, and Coach John Cabas (right) was given an award for his 200th victory at the basketball dinner, Saturday night.

Indians Are Limited To 2 Hits

Yankees Blank Tribe 5-0, Hit 3 Home Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—In an effort to get some more hits out of his Indians, who have scored only six runs in their last six games, Manager Birdie Tebbetts shook up his lineup against the New York Yankees Sunday.

The shakeup had no noticeable effect. Whitey Ford and Hal Reniff teamed up for a two-hit shut-out and the Yankee batters had a field day, bashing 13 hits for a 5-0 victory and a sweep of the two-game series.

Tebbetts had moved Woodie Held up from eighth in the batting order to third, put Doc Edwards in place of John Romano and started Willie Tasby in right field — the first time Willie has been used in that position.

Tasby got one of the Indians' hit, a triple to right in the second which bounded into the stands and was touched by a fan. The umpire ruled it a triple, and Yankee Manager Ralph Houk announced he was playing the game under protest.

Hector Lopez, Joe Pepitone and Ford hit home runs for the Yankees. The second-inning clout by Lopez with two men on was disputed hotly by the Indians, who contended the ball curved foul.

That homer off Jim (Mudcat) Grant gave the Yankees a 3-0 lead—all they needed for the victory.

The Indians are idle today but go to Boston for a single game Tuesday, then travel to Kansas City and Los Angeles.

Four Records Are Set In Drake Relays

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The rain didn't keep many fans from the finals of the Drake Relays, but it snuffed hopes for the first four-minute mile in the 54-year-old track and field meet.

"I knew as soon as I saw the track I wasn't going to run any four-minute mile," Dyrrol Burleson said Saturday after he won the invitational race in 4 minutes 5.4 seconds.

The rain also resulted in a disappointing performance by Fred Hansen of Rice, who has cleared more than 16 feet in the pole vault.

Hansen cleared 15 feet 7 1/4 inches for a Drake record but he was not close in three tries at 16-1.

Four other Drake records were bettered, but it was the comfrom-behind runs of little Tom O'Hara of Loyola of Chicago which captured the fancy of sportswriters covering the meet. The 130-pound junior received 21 of the 23 votes cast for the outstanding athlete after he anchored two Loyola relay teams to victory.

O'Hara turned a 20-yard deficit into an 8-yard victory in the college two-mile relay Saturday with an 880-yard leg of 1:51.7, and Friday erased a 50-yard deficit to give Loyola victory over Texas Southern in the college distance medley.

Beavers Post 14-7 Win Over Toronto

A nine-run rally in the sixth inning gave Beaver Local a 14-7 victory over Toronto, while the Red Knights' thinclads were posting a 100-23 decision in a track and field meet against the Beavers over the weekend.

Jim Smith and Gary Berhar collected three hits each as the Beavers chalked up their fourth victory in five starts.

A total of 15 batters went to the plate in the sixth as the Beavers tallied nine markers on four walks and six hits.

Beaver Local will entertain Salineville today at 4:15 p.m.

Rodgers Shoots 268 To Capture Texas Open Tourney

Pott Finishes 2nd With 269

Palmer Cards 276, Ties For 9th Place

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Phil Rodgers won a glittering duel with Johnny Pott to capture the $30,000 Texas Open Sunday and leave the crowd muttering about what might have been had a chip shot for birdie on the 17th hole been successful.

Pott, who had shot the identical score for three rounds as Rodgers—66-71-66—was a stroke behind as he came into 17. Rodgers, the blond better from San Diego, already had finished with a 6-under-par 65 for 268—a record for the 6,775-yard Oak Hills Country Club course.

Pott was back on the fringe with his second shot on the par 4 hole. He chipped barely past the hole, then missed a 3-foot putt and took a bogey. So all he could do to even tie for the lead was shoot a hole-in-one on 18. He took a par there.

Rodgers, the 25-year-old tour junior, racked up $4,300 with his victory and climbed into ninth place among the money winners, now having a total of $13,661.67. Arnold Palmer, the Texas Open defending champion and holder of the course record of 270 which Rodgers broke six strokes behind starting the final round. He had a 67 for 276 and tied for ninth, winning $1,050.

Pott won $3,000 with his second-place finish. Jack Fleck had a 66 for 272 and earned third money of $2,000. Bruce Crampton and Bobby Nichols tied for fourth with 274 and each drew down $1,600.

U.S. Irked At Loss In Sprint Race

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer.
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—The powerful United States team wasn't gloating Monday over its rich harvest of 61 gold medals in the Pan-American Games—it was griping over the one that got away.

"Fast gun," U.S. track officials complained after their ace sprinter, Ira Murchison of Chicago, was beaten by Cuba's Enrique Figueroa, in the 100-meter dash.

It was obviously a bitter pill to swallow coming on the heels of two baseball defeats at the hands of the Cuban team.

Figueroa was off like a shot and won the 100 meters, long a U.S. specialty, in the good time of 10.3 seconds. Murchison finished third, back of Arquimides Herrera of Venezuela.

The Yanks have won seven gold medals in 12 track and field finals, collecting four championships Sunday.

They also completed a sweep of the swimming pool, winning all 16 men's and women's swimming events and three of the four diving competitions. In swimming, they set games records in all but one event—the women's 400-meter medley relay.

They added four gold medals in rowing and two in shooting, won another baseball game, beating Venezuela 4-1; crushed Peru in men's basketball 104-56; beat Chile in women's basketball 57-37; won over Chile 3-1 in men's volleyball and scored victories in the Star and Flying Dutchman classes in the yachting competition.

Yang Garners World Record In Decathlon

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer

WALNUT, Calif. (AP)—Breaking through the mythical 9,000-point ceiling, rangy C. K. Yang of UCLA today owned the world decathlon record, one that seemed almost unbreakable for the past three years.

The 29-year-old co-captain of the UCLA track team, in a post-lecture of the Mt. San Antonio Relays, scored a total of 9,121 points in the windup Sunday of the two-day, 10-event grind.

Erased from the books was the 8,683 points that the incomparable Rafer Johnson, himself a former UCLA track captain, set in Eugene, Ore., July 7-8, 1960.

Two other world marks were produced in the relays proper Saturday. New York's Al Oerter threw the discus 205 feet 5 1/2 inches, breaking his own mark of 204-10 1/2.

The crack four-man mile relay team from Arizona State University ran in 3 minutes, 4.5 seconds, breaking the 3:05.6 set by a U.S. national team here in 1960.

After seven events midway Sunday Yang trailed by 411.

Then came the pole vault and Yang scaled 15 feet 10 1/2. This was worth 1,515 points and sent Yang in front of the Johnson total at that point.

Next was the javelin throw, like the vault one of C. K.'s better events. He needed a mark of at least 212-10 1/2 to break Rafer's record total by one point.

Yang's first throw sailed an unofficial 221 feet. The next was about 228. The third, the only one officially measured, was 235-5 and added 1,040 points.

News of the World in Pictures

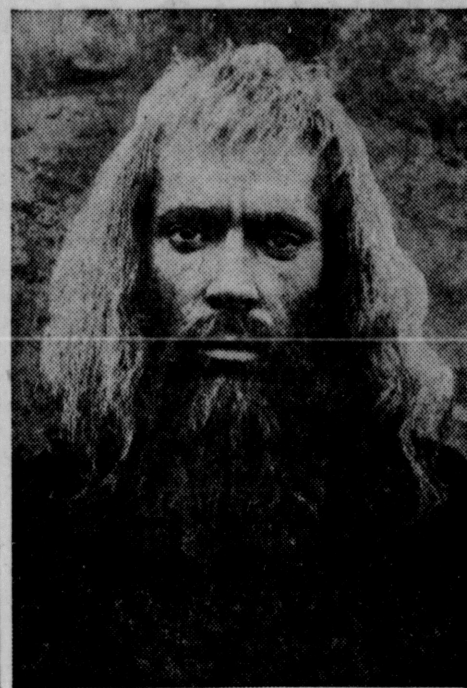

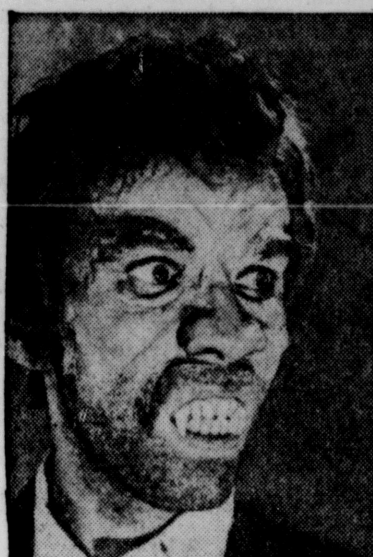

It's Curt's Fault

IF THE arrogant Nazi officers you have seen in a number of recent Italian movies seem to resemble each other, it is the fault of Curt Lowens. He specializes in Nazi roles. Portraying Nazis has a special meaning for Curt. Born in what today is East Germany, he and his family were among the millions of Jews who gained intimate knowledge of Nazis in concentration camps. He and his father managed to escape to Holland. He joined the Dutch underground at the age of 17. When the British liberated the Netherlands, Curt joined the British army as an interpreter, and returned to Germany with the conquering Allied armies. It was while taking part in camp shows for the British soldiers occupying Germany that he decided to become an actor.

A follower of St. Francis.

He specializes in Nazi roles.

Next a Jekyll-Hyde character. The real Curt at home in New York City. In a Biblical story on TV in Rome.

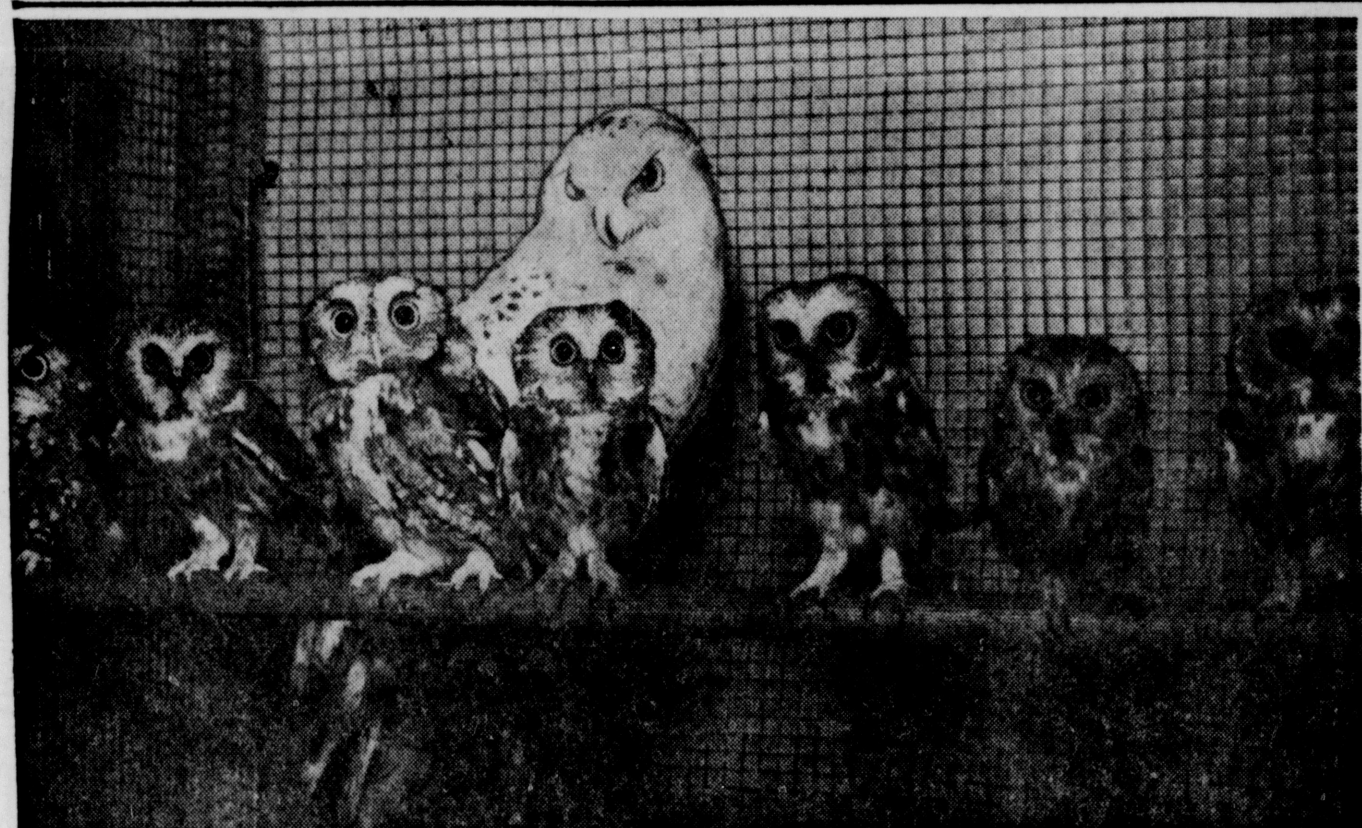

NO PRIZE CATCH—Lori Carlson holds tight to the shopping cart as she looks at that unfriendly lobster held by Bob Brayette, manager of a meat market in Manchester, Conn.

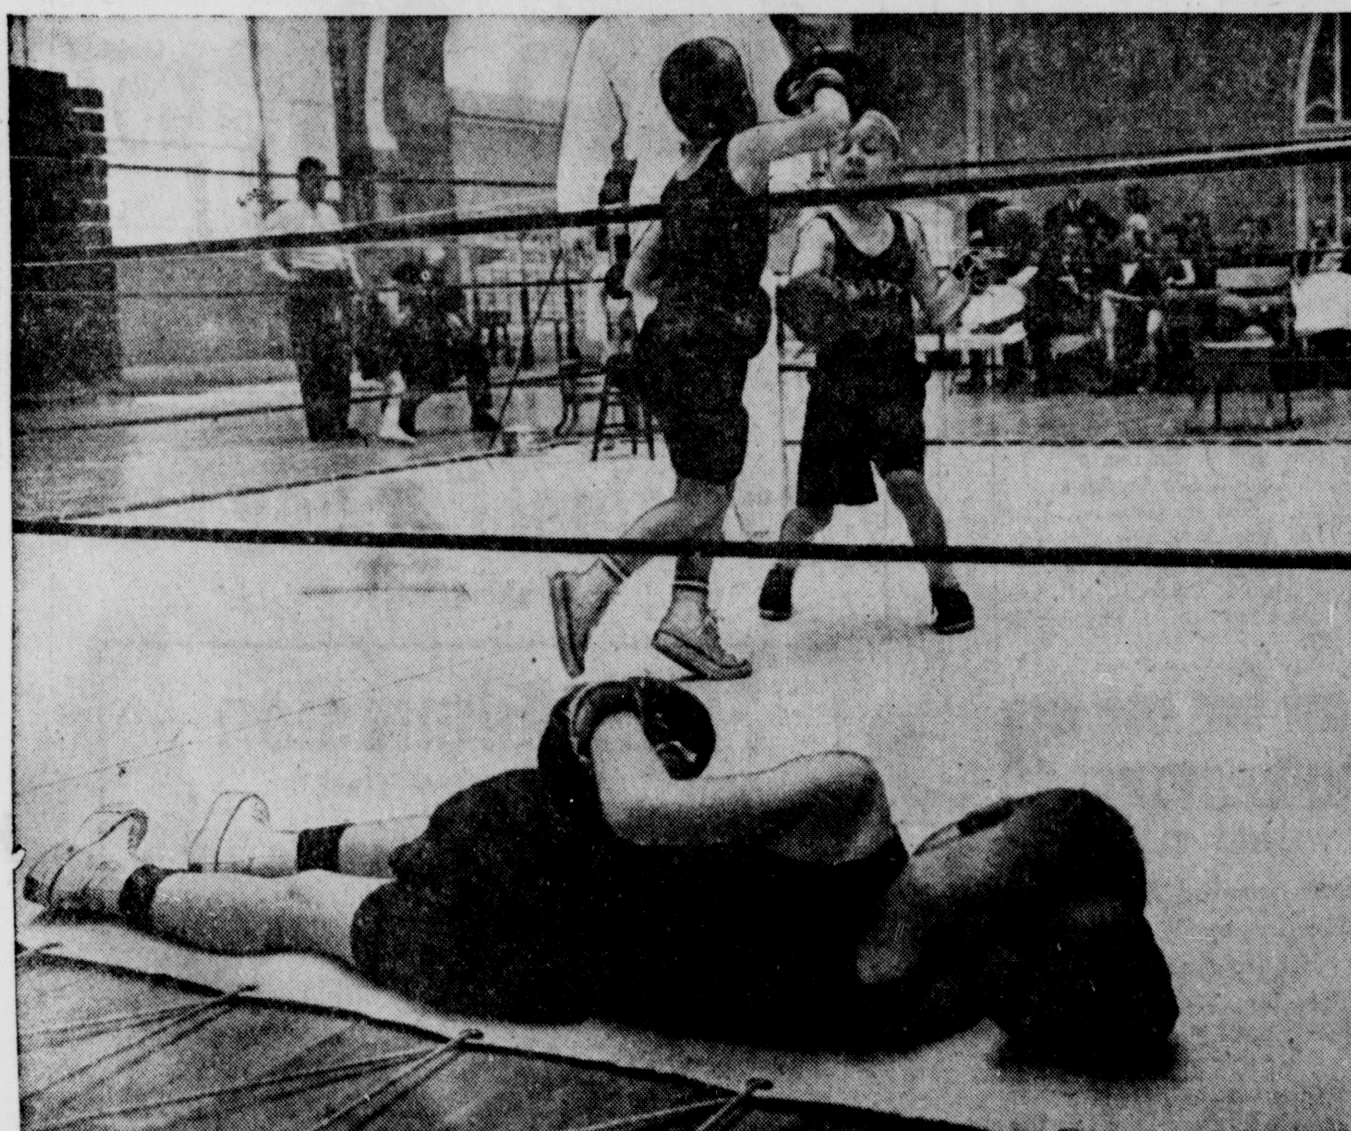

HIS BRIGHT IDEA—Eight-year-old Dave Stover of Topeka, Kan., tries out his home-made light bulb. Peanut butter jar serves as globe. Light gets its power from two batteries.

PULLING THE STRINGS—A puppeteer drags along his portable theater at Borghese Gardens, in Rome. He's heading for Piazzale Del Pincio.

WISE BIRDS OF A FEATHER—This sc-owl-ing scene takes place in one of rooms at Boston's Museum of Science.

READY TO CLOBBER THE WINNER—A youngster spreads out in comfort while two of his buddies go at it during match at 44th annual Navy Junior Boxing finals in Annapolis, Md. Resting lad will fire away at the winner.

SIESTA FOR SILAS—It's sleepy time down south as this sea lion yawns and stretches out for an afternoon nap. Silas, a resident of the Miami, Fla., Seaquarium, hasn't a care.

A FRIENDLY WAVE—Through mountain of spray goes Pinky Clough as she rides along at Cypress Gardens, Fla. Warm sun seems to be a bonus.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Perhaps some of you wanted to know who the winner of the $50.00 in food was which we gave away to one of the visitors at the Salem home show.

It was won by a Salem resident, this I thought was nice since I was invited to have my display at their show in Salem.

A gentleman by the name of Phillip Campbell drew the tickets for us, he is from Salem. The lucky ticket he drew was that of a lady by the name of Pat Drotloff of 128 Rose Ave. I am told she works at the Church Budget. I cannot place this lady, as yet she has not been down to collect her big supply of food.

NON-FICTION

THE UNITY WAY OF LIFE by Marcy Bach. Dr. Bach describes the Unity movement, how it was founded and what its beliefs are. The core of this creed is that religion must improve your life or it has no meaning for you.

THE SEGREGATIONISTS by James Graham Cook. The subtitle of this book describes it very well—"A penetrating study of the men and the organizations active in the South's fight against integration." Mr. Cook is himself a southerner, but he is one of the many who deplores the excesses on both sides of the integration struggle.

TEACHER EDUCATION, A RE-APPRAISAL edited by Elmer R. Smith. This book contains the results achieved from an appraisal made by group of educators at the request of the Fund for the Advancement of Education of teacher education today. While no attempt has been made to answer questions, they point the way to improvements.

THE OLD POST ROAD by Stewart H. Holbrook. Mr. Holbrook writes with both authority and charm about the old roads between New York and Boston, about what happened on them in the early days, about the men who drove the stages, and about the places of historic interest to be found along them to this day.

AN AMERICAN DILEMMA by Gunnar Myrdal. A new edition of a classic study of the Negro problem and modern democracy. There is a new preface by the author and Arnold Rose, who was one of Mr. Myrdal's original assistants. has written a 10,000 word review of events and developments in the past twenty years.

THE AUTOMOBILE QUARTERLY, Fall, 1962. This issue of the hard-bound periodical on cars is of special interest for its full treatment of the Packard car.

FOR PARENTS ONLY by Frank Howard Richardson M.D. A book of practical advice on discipline by a doctor who is the founder of a famous clinic for children.

THE ART OF INDOCHINA by Bernard Philippe Groslier. This is the first comprehensive work to be published in English on the art of this little-known area. The countries included are Thailand, Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

SCULPTURE AT YOUR FINGERTIPS by Fred Press. A how-to-do-it book on this fascinating subject with many illustrations of models at various stages and a clear text.

MUSIC AND ITS STORY by Percy M. Young. A brief and simply written history of the way music developed.

SURVIVAL OF THE FREE by Dr. Wolfgang Engelhardt. This book deals largely with the samples of wild animals which are protected in various national parks in the world so that their species may not become extinct. Illustrated with many photographs.

SELECTED POEMS by Hevutsenko. A selection of poems by the most popular poet now living in Russia.

SOUTHEAST ASIA. Description of these countries now much in the news, something of their people and a bit of their history.

LAND WHERE OUR FATHER DIED by Marion L. Starkey. A new telling of the settlement of the 13 original colonies of our country.

THE HEARTLAND by Walter Havinghurst. Descriptions of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois by an Ohio author. This is a volume in the Regions of America series.

MY TIME IS YOUR TIME by Rudy Vallee and Gil McKean. Personal memoirs of this entertainer who has managed to achieve starring roles for a great many years.

HONEST JOHN by Walker Marhlin. The autobiography of a pilot who was captured by the Chinese Communists during the Korean war, and who has a harrowing story to tell.

EINSTEIN, PROFILE OF THE MAN by Peter Michelmoro. A non-scientific portrait of the great scientist who was also a great man.

Three titles from the Rosicrucian society are Mystical Life of Jesus by H. Spencer Lewis, Rosicrucian Questions and Answers, by Lewis and the Sanctuary of Self, also by Lewis.

FICTION

A CAPTIVE IN THE LAND by James Aldridge. An Englishman who cares for an injured Russian during an Arctic winter becomes suspect in both countries afterward. Suspense and international intrigue figure in the remainder of the story.

CONSUELA BRIGHT by Cornelia Jessey. A Jewish family which had fled Hitler's Germany comes to America and, because of tuberculosis in the family, settles in Arizona. Consuela is the daughter most of the story is hers and it is told with warmth, humor and understanding.

THE SURGEON by W. C. Heinz. A novel about a day in the life of a busy surgeon from his first call to the hospital in the morning until mid-afternoon. It is so well done that if you like this kind of story at all you will finish it at one sitting.

WYOMING SUMMER by Mary O'Hara. A novel based on Miss O'Hara's journal kept during the ten years she lived on a ranch. You will remember her as the author of My Friend Flicka, Green Grass of Wyoming and Thunderhead.

THE BRIGHT MORNING by Frank O'Rourke. A mid-west town in 1938 is the setting for a pleasant story about ordinary people, well told. There is enough sly humor to keep it from becoming in the least boring.

SEVEN TEARS FOR APOLLO by Phyllis A. Whitney. This is primarily a suspense story but it is well mixed with romance and a colorful background.

DEADLY CONTACT by Amber Dean. Murder of a U.S. Post usual twist.

THE DIPLOMAT AND THE GOLD PIANO by Margaret Scherf. The gold piano was a present to a diplomat but he didn't know why. Murder occurred before he found out.

MOURNER'S VOYAGE by Shane Martin. The ship carried a very strange assortment of characters who obviously were up to no good and there were only three aboard to outwit them.

COMANCHE BELLE by Charles Thomas. Railroad building was dangerous in the 1880's when Indians and others didn't want it done. But the most dangerous was a girl with yellow hair who could shoot an arrow as straight as any Indian brave.

JOHN SLAUGHTER'S WAY by James Wycoff. A fictional biography of a pint-sized Western hero who lived in Tombstone Arizona, when it was wild.
